From Chairman's Desk

Yesterday (on 17th April, 2017) as I was going out from office around 08.30 p.m., I saw a lady walking out from the AAI, 'A Block' Rajiv Gandhi Bhawan. I was surprised to see a lady walking out so late. Hence, thinking she might be a visitor, out of curiosity, I stopped near her. She immediately recognised me and wished me. I was pleasantly surprised to find that she worked as Joint General Manager (Arch) in the Planning Department of AAI. I asked her, if she gets late like this quite often? She replied that it is not very often, but only when there is some backlog of work. She also replied that she commutes from Gurgaon by Delhi Metro.

I was very impressed with such commitment, particularly, for a lady employee who travels by public transport to such distant place at late hours. It is such commitment, which will break the stereotype and will also ensure that AAI always maintains its focus and prime position among all the public sector undertakings.

I wish Ms Charul Shukla, Jt. GM(Arch) great success in personal and professional life.
